

Speaker's Profile

-Kwang-Hun Lee-

Speaker's Name	Kwang-Hun Lee	Country	Korea
Organization	Yonsei Univ. Severance Hospital	Department	Radiology
Education	2004-2006: Doctor's Degree, Kangwon Univ. College of Medicine, Republic of Korea 1998-2003: Master's Degree, Yonsei Univ. College of Medicine, Republic of Korea 1988-1995: Medical Student, Yonsei Univ. College of Medicine, Republic of Korea
Experience	PRESENT APPOINTMENT - Associate Professor of Department of Radiology, Division of Intervention - Severance Hospital, Yonsei University College of Medicine
Main Specific Publication	As a first author, 18 SCI publications. As a corresponding author, 5 SCI publications. As a co-author, 10 SCI publications.
Summary	Dr. Kwang-Hun Lee is an interventional radiologist from Seoul, Republic of Korea. Dr. Lee is a graduate of Yonsei University College of Medicine in Seoul, Republic of Korea, and completed his radiology training at the same University, his interventional fellowship at the Asan Medical Center and Yonsei University in Seoul. He had done research abroad for two years at the Johns Hopkins from 2006 to 2008 under Dr. Jeff Geschwind. Now, he is currently an associate Professor of Interventional Radiology at his Alma Mater, Severance Hospital, Yonsei University College of Medicine in Seoul, Korea.			